I. PRESENT POSITION

Associate Professor
Departments of Forestry and Sociology
Center for Ecology
Southern Illinois University Carbondale

II. EDUCATION

B.S.	Columbia University, New York	Chemical Engineering (Biomedical Option)	1972
M.S.	Purdue University	Forestry and Natural Resources	1985
Ph.D.	Purdue University	Forestry and Natural Resources	1991

Post-baccalaureate coursework in Wildlife Ecology and Management
University of Wisconsin - Madison 1981
University of Arizona 1983

Dissertation and Thesis:

Mangun, J. C. 1991. The social structure of the Lake Michigan Sport Fishery. Ph.D. dissertation, Department of Forestry and Natural Resources, Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana. 173 p.

Behrens-Tepper, J. C. 1985. Specialized recreation participation in Indiana sport fishing. Master's thesis, Department of Forestry and Natural Resources, Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana. 89 p.

III. PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

2006-Present	Associate Professor , Departments of Forestry and Sociology, Southern Illinois University Carbondale, Carbondale, Illinois
2001-2006	Associate Professor , Department of Forestry, Southern Illinois University Carbondale, Carbondale, Illinois
1995-2001	Assistant Professor , Department of Forestry, Southern Illinois University Carbondale, Carbondale, Illinois
1989-1995	Lecturer and Visiting Assistant Professor , Department of Biology, East Carolina University, Greenville, North Carolina
1983-1991	Research Assistant and Graduate Instructor , Department of Forestry and Natural Resources, Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana
1981-1983	Post-baccalaureate coursework, University of Arizona, Tucson, Arizona

- 1974-1981 Project Specialist (Bioengineering), Department of Chemical Engineering and Instrumentation Systems Center/NASA Biomedical Applications Team, University of Wisconsin – Madison
- 1972-1973 Junior Engineer, Hospital for Special Surgery, New York Hospital - Cornell University, New York

IV. RESEARCH

Research Interests and Specialties:

Assessing identity and dimension of public interest and demand for renewable natural resources; examining private lands conservation issues; extending social theory to natural resource-based applications; conducting behavioral research including: design, execution and analysis of marketing, public opinion and attitude measurement surveys; interviews, focus group facilitation and qualitative data analysis through an interpretive, grounded theory approach.

V. RECENT PUBLICATIONS

A. Peer-Reviewed Publications

a. Journal Articles:

VI. TEACHING EXPERIENCE

A. Courses Taught:

Human Dimensions of Natural Resource Management (FOR 585, SIUC)
Principles of Research (FOR 500, SIUC)
Social Influences on Forestry (FOR 485, SIUC)
Forestry Summer Field Studies: Park and Wildland Management (FOR 422)
Forest Management for Wildlife (FOR 405, SIUC)
Introduction to Forest Recreation (FOR 320, FOR 220, SIUC)
Introduction to Forestry, Guest Lecturer (FOR 200, SIUC)
Biogeography (BIOL 6050, ECU)
Contemporary Population Biology (BIOL 6430, ECU)
Contemporary Issues in Organismal Biology (BIOL 6420, ECU)
Recreation Research Methods (RCLS 4000, ECU)
Field Zoology (BIOL 3240, 3241, ECU)
General Biology (BIOL 1050, 1051 ECU)

B. Teaching Awards:

College of Agricultural Sciences (COAS) Elkins Award nominee, 1999, 2001, 2003, 2005, 2006, & 2007
Department of Forestry nominee to 2006 and 2007 COAS Outstanding Teacher Award

C. Current Graduate Faculty Status:

Appointed to Graduate Faculty February, 1996
Dissertation Chair Status, 2001

VII. PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

A. Current Memberships in Professional Associations:

-  International Association for Society and Resource Management, serving 4 year term on IASNR Council
-  The Wildlife Society
-  North Carolina Academy of Science
-  Western Social Science Association
